Every day shapes a future...

At The Royal we believe in making sure our pupils are future ready for the rapidly changing world around us. So many of the skills they will need in life are taught beyond the classroom, as well as in it. There is no more exciting sense of collaboration, for example, than when the curtain rises on opening night or greater joy in mathematical creativity than when a code is cracked. It is when we step out of our comfort zone and try something new that we often gain the best experiences in life. We encourage every pupil to make the most of the rich extra-curricular programme at school, whether that involves deepening their skills and knowledge or discovering new ones.

Mrs Pippa Smithson
Head
